"So What Are you laughing at? Don't you know it's later than you think. If you think you've got troubles, man, I could bore you with a tale a mile long. Why I've got an English prof who wants to know if I can smell 'cat.' So wipe the grin off your face, you're not the only one leading a dog's life."

Passion Play Due Here Jan. 22

By Marsha Arhart
TRUMPET Steff Writer

Acclaimed as "the most outstanding dramatic event ever to be staged," the original Black Hills Passion Play will be presented in two performances in Knights Gymnasium Sunday, Jan. 22, the matinee beginning at 2:30 p.m. and the evening performance at 8 p.m.

The following Thursday, Robert McFerrin, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will appear in a recital at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The Black Hills Passion Play will reconstruct the seven last days of the life of Christ. Josef Meier, portrayer of the Christus, is proclaimed by critics as the outstanding interpreter of this most difficult role. Now a United States citizen, Meier originally came from Luenen, Germany.

His ancestors had participated for generations in the old world version of the Passion Play. Meier has been trained since childhood to enact the leading role. At the age of 10 weeks, he first played the Christ child in the manger. Then he was the 12-year-old youth in the temple, later portraying the role of the beloved disciple John and finally assuming the principal role of Christus.

Much Rasearch Done

To translate the stage setting into reality called for years of research in all pheses pertaining to the historic events. The customs and attire of the people involved, Palestine and Roman architecture and Jewish laws all had to be studied. The stage setting is the realization of an ambitious dream on the part of Meier.

An excellent lighting system, operated by remote control, will illuminate each of the 22 scenes with the quality and quantity of light called for, ranging from a beautiful moonlit night to early dawn, into the bright glare of high noon and the multicolored effect of a Palestine sunset.

One of Europe's oldest productions, the Passion Play was presented for the first time on the American stage in 1932 as the Luenen Passion Play. In 1939 an amphitheater settled in the Black Hills of South Dakota became the permanent home of the company, and each year during the summer months the world's greatest tragedy is re-enacted there.

Meier and his cast first came to this country during the height of the depression. After 20 years, Meier is the only player left from the original group. His cast replacements are drawn entirely from the American stage. Josef Meier's wife, Clare Hume, plays the part of the Virgin Mary. The entire ensemble consists of 250 players.

'Miracle In Itself'

Praised by Paul Friggins of Reader's Digest, who says, "The story of this dramatization of a miracle is almost a miracle in itself," the Passion Play has earned its place as one of America's finest cultural institutions.

Robert McFarrin . . . voice aqualed by few.

Josaf Meier . . . outstanding interpreter.

Four days following the presentation of the Passion Play, the Wartburg College Artist Series will bring to the stage one of the great American voices of our times. Robert McFerrin, 33-year-old baritone, was virtually unknown to the general public two years ago.

In the spring of 1953 he entered the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air. Singing an amazing sequence of the most taxing baritone arias in the repertoire, he was proclaimed winner by unanimous vote of the judges and given a scholarship for the Kathryn Turney Long Opera Courses, six weeks of training usually reserved for Metropolitan singers under contract.

His appearance at Wartburg on Jan. 26 will lack one day of being the first anniversary of his Metropolitan debut, Jan. 27, 1955.

His voice is lauded as one of sheer glory and with a gift for the making of music equaled by few.

Student Body Picks Hi-Fi For Union As '56 Project

Hi-fi for the Student Union was adopted by the student body as the 1956 SB Project at its monthly meeting Thursday in Knights Gym.

Receiving 51 votes, the record system wes followed by the scholarship fund for the Waverly Children's Home with 20, the Nativity scene with 13 and the piano for the Fine Arts Building with 12.

No Swing Show

At the Senate meeting Monday evening, the goverring body was informed that the 1956 Swing Show had been dropped. Reason given for discontinuance was lack of time for practice, since college policy cancels out all campus activities during semester exam week.

By a vote of 52-44, students chose one large project over several small ones. In the largest majority polled, students favored a work project by an 85-8 vote.

The high fidelity system will be installed in the SMU in the cafeteria, game room, Den and small lounge. Speaker baffles and wiring were installed when the Union was erected, but no speakers were installed.

House In Union Office

To be housed in the union director's office, the unit will consist of speakers, phonograph, public address system and a record library.

The work project approved by students is a means whereby students may contribute time as well as money. According to Bob Vogel, senior, it will be an opportunity for students to practice stewardship in giving time as well as money.

Projects suggested include work at the Bartels Home for the Aged, Waverly, a religious survey of the community and help for a Waverly family.

Campus Chest drive chairman gave the final report for the chest drive. A rising vote of thanks was given to Frahm and his committee for work done on the drive.

Creative Writing Match Open To Wartburgers

A creative writing contest following the Waverly Centennial theme has been announced by Miss Margaret Wolff, creative arts chairman for the local branch of the American Association of University Women.

The contest is open to Waverly students and adults during the months of January, February and March. Contestants may submit as many entries as they wish by leaving them in a contest box at the Waverly Public Library before April 1.

The four classifications of the A.A.U.W. sponsored contest are: adult prose, adult poetry, high school prose and high school poetry. The prose may be either fiction or non-fiction. A five-dollar prize is offered to the best in each division.

Writings will be judged on originality, neatness and interest. Entry blanks will be available from English teachers at the college. Wartburg students will enter the adult division.

$2,300 In Grants Given To Wartburg

Three gifts, two of $1,000 each and one of $300, were received by Wartburg College during the Christmas season. The First National Bank of Waverly and the Carnation Milk Company gave the $1,000 gifts, whereas the U. S. Steel Company presented the $300 donation.

Designated for the library, the U. S. Steel grant will be utilized in purchasing new reference sets, according to Miss Perna Lohn, college librarian.

Read It And Weep, Bachelor: Two Married, 17 Engaged

Rings on their fingers and belles and their joes returned to the Wartburg campus after the holidays, bearing happy tidings that filled the girls' dorm with tales of "Acres of Diamonds."

Gwendolyn Bose, junior, became the bride of B. F. Mirtz, second-year Wartburg Seminary student, Dec. 20 in the Peace Lutheran Church at Bessie, Okla. Freshman Jane Pritchard was married to Jim Campbell, Navy electric engineer, Dec. 22 in the First Christian Church at Oelwein.

Marriage For Jan. 21

Sophomore Glenyce Radloff, Le Mars, and junior Giles Card, Shell Rock, will be married Jan. 21 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Merrill. Jan. 29 is the wedding date for Darlene Johnson, sophomore from Ankeny, and the Rev. W. E. Biedermann, pastor of the Elvira Zion Lutheran Church. The wedding will be in the bride's home town.

Delores Bose, senior, has announced her engagement to Clarence Messick, First Lieutenant in the Air Force. June 2 is planned for the wedding date. Senior Alberta Brandt, Denver, became engaged to Harlan Pieper of Clara City, Minn. Sandra Zahn, sophomore, and Don Hagemann, senior, have announced their engagement. Both are from Waverly.

Biel, Gomer Engaged

Mary Ann Biel, 1954 Wartburg graduate, became the fiancee of junior Louis Gomer of Brooten, Minn. Nancy Meier, sophomore from Cushing, and Evan Dieck, senior from Caroline, Wis., recently announced their engagement.

Norma Peters, sophomore, was betrothed to senior Lowell Hohensee. Both are from Pocahontas. Sophomore Marlene Schutz, Endicott, Wash., became engaged to former Wartburg student Bob Holm, now serving in the Marines. Sophomores Frances Luebke and August Borchardt, both of Parkston, S. D., announced their engagement during the Christmas holidays.

Beyond Our Control

Circumstances beyond the TRUMPET's control — es a mattar of fact, anybody's control— will impal the staff of the nawspapar to take a week off. It seems as though the members hava conflicts in their schedules.

But they'll be back Jan. 28 unless circumstances beyond their control force them to make other arrangements.

Dr. Haefner At Home Recovering From Stroke

Dr. Alfred Haefner, on the Wartburg faculty since 1935, returned home Wednesday from Iowa City where he has been recuperating from a stroke.

Heefner

Latest reports are that he is well on his way to complete recovery. Although required to cut down on former activities, he will resume teaching his Greek classes beginning the second semester.

Haefner suffered two strokes early in December and was taken to the hospital in Iowa City.

Dr. John Chellevold, head of the Wartburg Mathematics Department, has been appointed acting dean of the faculty, replacing Haefner. Dr. Haefner's resignation as dean of the faculty had been submitted previous to his illness.

With the new year, Dr. John O. Chellevold, Mathematics Department, accepted the duties of acting dean of the faculty. Vacated by the illness of Dr. Alfred Haefner, the office will be held by Chellevold for the balance of the school year.

A graduate of St. Olaf College, Dr. Chellevold received his M.A. from Northwestern University and his Ph.D. degree from Lehigh University, 1951.

Prefers Wartburg To Navy

Although he prefers classroom teaching, naval service has provided extensive administrative experience. These positions included heading the navigation departments of the Midshipmen's School, Columbia U. and the ROC School, Long Beach, Calif. He also served one year as registrar at St.Paul-Luther College.

In addition to his duties as temporary dean, Dr. Chellevold will carry a full teaching load.

Regarding policy, Dr. Chellevold feels his first responsibility is to carry out those plans begun by Dr. Haefner. The following section from a recent bulletin to the faculty reveals his objectives:

'Wartburg Standards Should Be Improved'

"While occupying this office, we shall attempt to carry out our convictions that academic standards at Wartburg College should be improved; that the classroom is a very important place and that the quality of classroom instruction should be kept at a very high level."

Summing up his attitude toward his new duties, Dr. Chellevold stated, "We're all very sorry that health did not permit Dr. Haefner to stay in his office. In schools, as in the military, when there are losses in the ranks, we close the ranks and carry on. That's what I'm doing here."

Incidents Regretful

A lesson in intercollegiate relations was learned last week.

A situation which appeared to be sending Wartburg College and Luther College toward a great schism was nipped in the embryonic stage, and the result will probably be a lasting and harmonious link between the two schools. Several incidents which threatened to sever all connections between the two schools have been smoothed over.

But the purpose of this editorial is not to perform an autopsy over bygone matters but to eradicate feelings of vengeance which can be dangerous when left fomenting.

Apparently Luther wants to call it off. A meeting last Thursday between Wartburg and Luther students resulted in an exchange of deep-felt apologies for the unfortunate incidents which had occurred. A real feeling of regret on the parts of both Wartburg and Luther were vented.

Much talk was done of strengthening the relationships between the two schools. Suggestions were made in the area of student exchange programs via Student Senate and visiting debate teams.

An unhappy affair is over. The pieces have been picked up. Now they must be put back together.

'Happy Birthday,' Dr. Albert Schweitzer

Eighty-one years ago today Dr. Albert Schweitzer was born. One of the most remarkable men of modern times, Dr. Schweitzer has spent more than fifty years of his life in Africa, instructing and administering to his fellow men.

A brilliant organist, musicologist, theologian and philosopher, Dr. Schweitzer at the age of 30 forsook the dazzling rewards the world offered him in favor of a life of devoted service to man. History marks him as a monument among men. Today the world pauses to remember Dr. Schweitzer on his 81st birthday.

Footnotes To Faith:

For Whosoever Would Be Greatest . . .

By Pres. C. H. Becker

Christian service! The whole program of Christian activity is contained in this concept. Christ is the source of all Christian service and from His Word and doctrine we receive the right directives for all service.

When the Son of Man came into the world, He came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. His whole life was a life of service. We see Him serving His foster father Joseph in the pursuits of daily living.

At the beginning of His public ministry, He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up, and as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath Day and stood up to read.

They handed Him the prophet Isaiah. And when He opened the Book He found the place where it is written, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath appointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Pres. C. H. Becker

He closed the Book, and gave it again to the minister, and He began to say unto them, "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." From that day on He manifested Himself as "the servant of God," who had come into the world to fulfill His mission.

"He took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men." Jesus saw in Himself "the servant" of whom Isaiah had prophesied: "Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased."

This might well be the motto written over the manger in Bethlehem, over all the activities of His life, over the cross of Calvary, as well as over the throne of glory: "Behold my servant!" There is only one consuming passion in His life: "To do the will of Him who sent Him."

If service is the standard of greatness, then He is the Greatest. This then becomes the pattern for those who would be His followers. Not only does Christ say of Himself "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

He also says to His followers: "Whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you let him be your servant."

GLOBULAR GLIBBLINGS

President Presents Sunny State Of Union

By Don Oberdorfer

Once again the President of the United States presented his annual State of the Union message to the Congress. This is a message to Congress showing in a condensed form what has been accomplished in the last year and in what position the country is now.

One of our primary aims in the forthcoming year will be to attain world peace. Many attempts have been made in this direction, but all seem to have been thwarted in some manner. The celebrated "spirit of Geneva" has lost its magic touch and has become just another meeting.

Oberdorfer

In looking at the President's message, a person cannot help feeling that there seems to be a wonderful outlook ahead of us. However, the same feeling prevailed last year at this time. Perhaps we should be a little skeptical of the brilliant future that has been promised us.

The State of the Union message points out some interesting truths about the achievements of our country during the past year. Among them is the fact that our country still remains at peace. Our economy has reached a new height of 400 billion dollars.

Not only has our national income reached a new height, but it is also more evenly distributed among our nation's people. As a people we are attaining a new high in our standard of living. All around us economy, freed from government control, continues to boom.

Our national defense has been well reinforced. This has been done at a cut-rate in government spending. One often wonders how the government is able to do this. Perhaps we shall find out if taxes ascend again in the coming year.

For the first time in many years we hope to present a semblance of a balanced budget. Considerable controversy has been voiced, however, on this subject. Long standing problems of agriculture have finally been investigated. Regarding this, quite a few voices have been heard saying the same thing: "It's about time that they finally got around to that issue."

Yes, prosperity seems to be booming all around us. Let us not forget, however, it is the growth of a nation alone that enables it to carry on in as prosperous a manner as we are now doing.

Voice Of The Campus

'THANK YOU'—HAEFNER

To the Students of Wartburg College:

For the many expressions of good will and good cheer from North Hall Ambassadors and men of Grossmann, from Chi Rho and the Hans Sachs carolers, from individual students on campus and from former students, as well as for the plant sent me at Mercy Hospital and the chrysanthemums for Christmas from the entire student body, let me say simply, "Thank you, one and all, very, very much."

Your prayers and support have meant a great deal to me in my illness and have demonstrated anew the ties that bind us together.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. A. E. Haefner

GRIPES UNFOUNDED

To members of the student body:

As chairman of the Student Body Project last year, I was the recipient of numerous criticisms by students who objected to the selection of a foreign student scholarship by a small percentage of the student body. Ninety per cent of the criticisms heard by me were not valid, since at least this percentage of criticizers had not even taken the time to attend the student body meeting and vote for their choice.

A special attempt was made this year to inform the student body at which meeting the project would be voted upon. This year's project was voted upon at the student body meeting last Thursday—again by a small percentage of students.

Although the turn-out was a little larger than last year, the attendance was still a genuine disappointment to me, since I had anticipated that the student body had learned its lesson. Nothing can be done about the attendance or lack of interest. My only hope is that those students who did not vote will be gracious enough to accept the decision made by the interested students who turned out Thursday.

Very truly yours,
Eldor Windhorn
Student Body Vice President

ARTICLES OUTSTANDING

Dear Editor:

You as editor, your staff and Wartburg College are to be commended for the excellent articles on Prevention of Motor Vehicle Accidents in your last issue of the TRUMPET.

I thought your articles so outstanding and thought provoking that if some way could be found to get the same message to our employees, they would not only obtain the benefit of the message but would realize that others are interested enough to put forth considerable effort also.

With this thought in mind, I took the liberty of clipping the articles and sending them to Mr. F. P. Williams, our District Plant Superintendent, suggesting that they be prepared . . . and sent to every manager in the Waterloo District. . . Mr. Williams' comments: "It (information in the clippings) is a good example of the attitude of the students at this college and indicates to me a commendable effort on the part of these young people to assist our nation in reducing automobile accidents."

. . .for myself and my company. . . thanks. I am sure many will benefit from your efforts.

Yours truly,
E. L. Simpson, manager
Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Knight Beat

by Bob Losle

No one was sure last Wednesday whether Cy Wainscott was deserting Wartburg College or playing counter spy. When everybody got home from the Luther game last Tuesday, old sly Cy was not among the flock. Seems he was supposed to ride home with Norm Scott after the game. They were parted, and while Norm was hunting for Cy at one end of the campus, Cy was searching for Norm at the other end.

After quite a few minutes of this, Norm assumed Cy had departed by another way and decided to head on home, leaving Wainscott in an alien environment with not enough shekels to find another way. In one of the more noble Norseman moves, Lutherites befriended him by putting him up for the night and loaning him enough money to take a bus home. He got out of Decorah before the campus knew that it had a "for real" Knight in its midst.

We on the TRUMPET staff think that actually Scott was offering a live, worthless Knight for the segment of the metal one.

As a note of anti-climax, friend Scott spent so much time hunting for Wainscott that he was faced with the prospect of getting his female riders into the dorm late. So he "expeeded" the speed limit somewhat and spent 45 minutes in traffic court. He came out wiser and $14 poorer.

Stunned Knights Fight For Win Against Grinnell Here Tonight

By Dale Kopitzke
TRUMPET Sports Editor

Hoping to regain their winning ways after Tuesday's stunning 76-70 defeat at Luther, the Knights will host Grinnell College tonight at 7:30 in Knights Gym.

Although both teams post unimpressive records, Wartburg with a 5-6 and Grinnell 4-4, they have shown championship form at times. The Pioneers, who have not posted a win in their last three outings, were soundly beaten, 75-63, by Cornell last Tuesday.

The Wartburg-Grinnell series started during the 1952-53 campaign, and the Pioneers now have a 2-1 edge. Last year they beat the Knights, 85-79.

With five returning lettermen, including center John Musser, forwards Dick Crowl and Tom Doyle and guards Dick Kirkpatrick and Larry Koek, the Grinnellians have a strong nucleus. Nine capable sophomores provide a strong bench for Coach John Pfitsch's squad.

Musser, Crowl High

Musser, an All-Midwest conference choice the past two years, and Crowl, Grinnell's leading scorer, provide the team's best punch. Crowl scored 23 points in Tuesday's battle with Cornell.

John Adix lifts one up while Art Margheim looks on.

Lack of speed is one of the Pioneers' principal shortcomings, but is overshadowed by their height and consequent rebound strength. The Grinnell eagers have a 59.1 defensive average—the lowest in the state and one of the lowest among the nation's small colleges.

Forward John Adix, who dumped in 20 points on 9 buckets and two charity tosses against Luther will be expected to give the Pioneers some headaches tonight.

Returning to conference action on Jan. 20, the Knights will be out to avenge the 76-75 loss handed them by Iowa Wesleyan earlier in the season.

Wesleyan has a poor 6-8 overall record but is unbeaten in conference play with a 5-0 record. The Tigers rolled over Carthage (Ill.) 107-94 in their last outing.

Three 20-Point Men

Forward Bob Ballard, center Don Gunter and guard Jim Fenn, all hit more than twenty points against Carthage.

Traveling to Storm Lake, the Knight eagers will take on Buena Vista Jan. 27.

The Beavers, who have a 1-9 overall record this season, are hampered by lack of height. With a team averaging less than six feet tall, they have not been able to snare enough rebounds to compete with their foes.

Sophomore Jerry Ibach, forward, has been the team's most consistent scorer this year. Senior Bill Riebard is another consistent scorer from his guard position.

Wartburg Enters New Year With Fluctuating Fortunes

By Bill Melvin
TRUMPET Sports Writer

Wartburg's basketball fortunes fluctuated between bad and good during the final weeks of the first semester as the Knight cagers picked up three impressive victories and suffered two defeats between Dec. 20 and Jan. 10.

Last Tuesday evening at Decorah, the Knights became the fourth straight conference victims of the rampaging Norsemen, 78-70.

Wartburg came back from a 38-38 first half tie to move in front, 51-42, early in the second half but could not hold the lead as Luther stormed back to knot the count at 55-all.

Viking Escape In Final 3

Less than three minutes remained when Luther finally pulled in front to stay at 70-66 on successive buckets by Chuck Barkee and Harlan Wilson.

The Knights avenged an earlier defeat Jan. 6 by hanging the first conference loss on Parsons at Knights Gymnasium, 87-75.

Margheim Boosts Knights

Parsons gained an early lead, but a jump shot by Art Margheim put Wartburg in front to stay at 19-17. With Margheim and Maynard Midtgaard doing most of the scoring, the Knights increased the margin to 40-32 at half.

Margheim led the Knight scoring with 25, while John Smith scored 22 for Parsons.

The Muscatine holiday tourney saw Wartburg reach the finals on an easy 88-62 conquest of Knox, only to fall to Loras for the second time this season, 86-81. Loras had led 46-34 at half and weathered a late rally sparked by reserve Dennie Wessels, who bit four buckets in five shots.

Bahlmann

A brilliant 36-point effort by Art Margheim closed out the pre-holiday schedule for the Knights as they journeyed to Cedar Falls to jolt Iowa State Teachers College, 91-75.

Grapplers Tangle Here At 2 Today

Wartburg wrestlers will be trying for their second win of the season when they grapple with the University of Dubuque this afternoon at 2 here.

Last Saturday the Jomen opened the year with a 16-14 verdict over Augustana. Freshman Dick Chellevold scored the first Knight five-point pin, wrestling in the 130-lb. class. Only other Wartburg pin came in the 137-lb. bracket with Wendell Wilbarm gaining the win.

Other victories for Wartburg were scored by Tom Gildewell and Gerald Lenguadoro.

Kreilick Leads Keglers

Led by John Kreilick's 207 high game and 518 high series, the Lawnites tripped Meyer's Drug, 3-1, last Wednesday on the Waverly bowling lanes.

Grossmann II Eases By Nights In 52-27 Win

Intramural basketball game of the week was played in the American League last Thursday night when Grossmann II (5-0) eased to a 52-27 win over Nights (4-1).

Second Floor led by only 10 points with three minutes remaining to play, but capitalizing on fast breaks, the Grossmannites won handily with Carl Anderson and Phil Moeller doing most of the damage. Mel Schulz topped all scorers with 21 markers.

The remaining schedule favors Grossmann II which has to meet Waverly in what will probably be its toughest encounter. Nights still have to meet most of the upper division teams in the loop race.

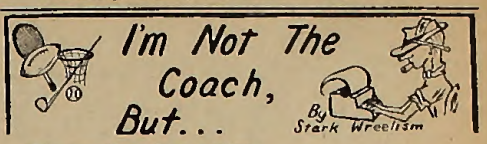
Foes Rack Squires In 3 Of 4 Games

Coach Boh Campbell's "B" squad has suffered three setbacks in its four tilts.

The junior varsity rolled over Loras 60-45 on Dec. 14. Iowa State Teachers College defeated Campbell's eagers 44-40. Wartburg Seminary with three former Wartburg ball handlers, Bob Adix, Bill Adix and Ted Fritehel, held the defeat of the "B" squad, 91-67. A close Luther tilt gave the Norsemen a 67-65 win.



Test yourself on these questions:

Forming a perfect geometric are, the football soared directly between the goal posts. A young man from Michigan State had just: 1) inscribed his name into the annals of gridiron history; 2) given his team a victory over UCLA; and 3) scraped the tastiest tidbit out of the New Year's delicious slate of Bowl games.

Now here's the question: What was the name of the player who kicked the field goal? If you have the correct answer, you have a keen memory. And if you've forgotten, then don't fret—you're average.

The answer is Dave Kaiser. It was Kaiser, who, with one tremendous effort of his right leg, made more friends—and, conversely, more enemies—than Dale Carnegie ever dreamed possible.

Now on to the second plateau. Naturally, this one is a little more difficult. What price glory? Take your time. You have one minute—the time it takes for you to read the rest of this column.

The Jan. 3 editions of the newspapers screamed about Kaiser's "magnificent," "breathtaking," "miraculous" accomplishment, and yet Kaiser's name now lies forgotten among the many, to be revived—and then only temporarily—whenever he dons a football uniform.

Recently while paging through the January issue of Coronet, this writer came across an article entitled "The Shame of College Sports," a vigorous indictment of the shocking conditions that exist in "big league" amateur athletics.

Written by Al Stump, a noteworthy sports writer of some twenty years, the article is a realistic, well authenticated look at college sports. Smutty terms like "fix," "bribe," "fake," "bonus" and "alumni pressure" are dealt with.

The article asks, "Have our sports become so bad that they need an FBI?," and then lets a private eye, whose job it is to patrol a particular area of college sports, answer in the affirmative.

Stump cites facts and figures which give basis to his accusations. He says, "The American Council on Education recently charged that most of the major schools illicitly bargain for players . . ." In New York 15 fixers were sent to jail for bribing 33 players at six colleges to "cooperate" in basketball games.

But, Stump says there is a way out. He cites the remarkable case of Willamette University, a typical small college of 1,200 in Oregon. Here there is no job for the FBI.

Stump's crowning statement is, "My boy will play somewhere like Willamette . . ." where "the game has been returned to the students, where it belongs."

Banquet To Accent Artist Series Night

A formal banquet will be held between performances of the Passion Play at 5:30 on Sunday evening, Jan. 22, in the college cafeteria.

The banquet has been planned to stimulate the social program on campus and to obtain student reaction to this type of activity. Faculty members, their families and students are invited as well as any guests they wish to bring.

No speaker has been engaged for the program, but eight members of the Passion Play cast will present several short sidelights. Following the banquet, students are urged to attend the evening performance in formals.

Tickets for the banquet are being sold at $1.25. Next week they may be obtained from either Delores Gayer, Dick Larson or the dean of students' office.

King, Debate Seen On Coming Convos

No convocations are scheduled for the coming week due to semester exams. Dr. Winston King, dean of chapel of Grinnell College, Grinnell, and a debate are featured for convocations the following week.

Dr. King will be the speaker at the worship service convo Tuesday, Jan. 24. "Righteous in Reverse" is his subject. A debate between Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, and Wartburg College will be held during the convo on Thursday, Jan. 26.

Sweet Talk Set Wed. By College Women

Miss Nancy Haven, regional home economist for Western Beet Sugar Producers, will present a demonstration on cake frostings and desserts before the Warthurg Women's Club Wednesday evening at 7:45 in the Home Ec building.

Arrangemens for Miss Haven's appearance have been made by Miss Hazel May Snyder, Home Economics Department head.

'Friend Of The College' E. Engelbrecht Dies

A lifelong resident of Waverly and a graduate of Wartburg Normal College, Edwin G. Engelbrecht, died Jan. 5. A brother of Herh Engelbrecht, college business manager, he was always a friend of the college.

Engelbrecht served on the church council of St. Paul's Church for many years, was a member of the Board of Trustees of the American Lutheran Church and was a member of the Board of Directors of the Lutheran Children's Home, at Waverly.

As a member of the Board of Trustees of the American Lutheran Church, he worked to keep Warthurg in Waverly and to establish it as the midwest school of the church.
